For several days past a seedy-looking tramp has been perambulating about the town and exhibiting what appeared to be a dreadfully scalded arm. He told a most pitiable tale, and said that be was a seasonall explosion. So blown up in a saw-mill explosion. So accurately did he describe how he was hurt that he went so far as to tell exactly how far up in the air he went. One of his arms appeared to be in a dreadful condition, and, in fact, it presented a sickening sight. But a few persons ga'h-ered up courage enough to take a look at the trame's arm. Fina ;, however, he met a more inquisitive e tizen, who soon discovered that the trame had not been burt at all, but was playing a very sharp hurt at all, but was playing a very sharp trick. On his alleged sore arm the tramp had wrapped a piece of bleached hog blad-der, which had been so prepared as to cause most anybody to think that it was tife raw flesh of the tramp's arm.

Captain David A. Brown, quartermaster of Lee Camp, a few days ago disintered the remains of J. J. Wood, of the Twelfth Mississippi infantry, and had them re-buried in the soldiers' section of Hollygood cemetery. The remains were found paried in the woods near the National emetery at Glendale, by Francis H. Schorne, the superintendent of that surying-ground. There was nothing in he grave to hientity the dead man, and his name could only be learned from the edded in the bones a piece of an old confederate tallow candlestick, which had seen buried with the body for thirty-on years. In a letter to Captain Brown Mr. Osborne states that about three years ago he reported the burial of that body to the Governor of Mississippi, but nothing was done in the matter, although the papers of that State took notice of the fact. The remains appear to be those of a young man about seventeen years old, and from a bullet hole in the bones, it seems that he was shot in the region of the heart. Looking for a Fortune.

Governor McKinney yesterday received letter from Mr. R. L. Chumbley, 328 Cherry street, Quincy, Ill. The letter read as follows:

"I am in search of a relative of mine, one Chumbley, who died in or near Richmond about two years ago. His first name I am without. All trace of this missing relative has been lost, until recently I heard of his death, as above stated. He left a large amount of mone, and property without any known heirs He was an uncle of my father, and you can readily understand my anxiety to locate where he died. A case of this kind, no doubt, would be recorded somewhere in your city, and if not asking too much of you, will you please give me any information obtainable?"

Bad Feeling Among the Hill City Military.

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 12.-Special. LYNCHBURG, VA., May 12.—Special.—
There is something like a sensation in military circles here to-night. To-day, being the Confederate Memorial day, there was a large parade, in which the military of the city were fo take part. In the programme published in the dally papers the Virginia Zouaves, the crack military operation of the State were assistant. organization of the State, were assigned to a position behind the Fitz. Lee cavalry and the Lynchburg Artillery Blues, the latter company dismounted. The Home Guard led the military, and Captain Craighill, of the Zouaves, thought his company should follow next to the Home Guard. On being assigned his place in the rear he appealed to the chief marshal, Captain R. H. T. Adams, and asked that captain R. H. T. Adams, and asked that his company be allowed to march behind the Home Guard. This request was re-fused, and Captain Craighill promptly marched his company back to their armo-ry and refused to take part in the parade. The opinion among the local military men on the affair is conflicting. Some uphold the action of Captain Craighill and some are occurring than for the last five years. This is something terrible.

Dr. John T. Nagle, Begistrar of Vital Statistics, says that this increase is due to the inducence of grip. He says that grip may be called epidemic just now, and that in the majority of cases grip is a vital, contributing cause to pneumonia and all dangerous pulmonary troubles. At this time of the year, when we are changing over from whiter to spring, there is always a low order of vitality—a reaction from the strains of the season. The blood does not flow so full nor rapidly; the strength is less. For this reason grip has a much better chance than at any other season. This is a time of year when people need to be strength is less. For this reason arrowmeth better chance than as any other season. This is a time of year when people need to be carotul, and too much importance cannot be piaced upon keeping the blood warm and in circulation. You must bring about a reaction if you wish to avoid the pain and dangers of these troubles in time. There is but one way by which a reaction can be brought at out, and that is by the use of a pure atimulant, preferably whisky. But the great difficulty is that there are few whiskies which are pure. The only really pure and reliable which who will be to the medical profession or the world is buffy. For Malt. It possesses qualities known only to itself. It will bring about a reaction and prevent cold, pneumonia or the grip where many so-called stimulants would fail. It has saved more lives and relieved more suffering than anything of a similar nature which was ever known before to the world. FOR REST.
